

Coma, Song 4 Boys

I could've used this office to get these forms
I should've hit it off straight forward
Now it doesn't really matter
I'm showing them around the way
I remember only the yellow bus
It was buzzing in the streets
As I was telling your little secret mom
Now I'm gonna fight for our country

I've joined the army
So what's he gonna do? What's he gonna say?
I've joined the army
What's he gonna say to your monument?

I've tried because you try, don't you dare girl
I'll bring your little shine into reach girl
Find a moment ready, I am out of here
You really had beautiful tits
Darling maybe you don't need to be upset
There a way so don't feel ashamed
Bless your boy and you're gonna see that
Before it's my call give me a man yea

I've joined the army
So what's he gonna do? What's he gonna say?
I've joined the army
What's he gonna say to your monument?

What is life? You see the right thing
Loud in here so oftenly
What is life? The meaning's made up
Do I need that?

I've joined the army
So what's he gonna do? What's he gonna say?
I've joined the army
What's he gonna say to your monument?
