

Comecon, The Future Belongs To Us

frivolous leaking of nuclear power plants explodes the market
of mongoloid chants

who's next for charity
keep in line
crumbs are tasty when intensions are fine hands up who'll be our saviour

the future belongs to us
this is the future and it belongs to us paradise of poverty, wonderland of war the glory of gluttony is what we live for moralizing innocence of uncorrupted youth the illusion of discerning lies from truth a conscious generation with tears to weep

for starving millions and pity is cheap

who'll set the prices
when we sell our souls who'll be the idol
to define our goals who wants to be our saviour

magnanimous messiah of things not understood the delusion of dividing evil from good the unborn babies slain on the altar of freedom it's the age of progress with thousands of new ways to die
