

Common Children, Absence Of Light

For maybe just a second
The sun was in your eyes
It flickered like a spark
From the fire that burns inside
You were broken by the darkness
By the silence of the night
Searching for a shelter
From the cold absence of light

Going on and on
And on and on you go
Going on and on
And on and on you go

It's gonna be okay
Just a little longer
You will find your way
Just a little bit longer
It's gonna be okay
Just a little bit longer
You will find your way
Just a little longer
