

Common Rider, Where The Waves Are Highest

I was made from reels left out of the feature so if you like bad scenes i'm your creature Enter these embarrassing moments tantrums and unclear omens Arrange the things i marry dress up what i cant bury Guilty pops in a jumble of shortwaves cracking jokes trying to appear brave I should know by now where the waves the waves are highest where the house of stone falls down and your reasons to go on grow quiet this is where the answer will be found This city was made for taxies not sensitive types like you and me They offered you a sack full of diamonds headlights hand shakes even triumphs Waves move while water stands still its beautiful say what you will you'll ride on the back of the train writing down notes in the book of hard rain you should know by now where the waves the waves are highest where the house of stone falls down and your reasons to go on grow quiet

where the waves the waves are highest
where the house of stone falls down and your reasons to go on grow quiet this is where the answer will be found (fuckers)

where the waves the waves are highest
where the house of stone falls down and your reasons to go on grow quiet
this is where the answer will be found
