

Conception, Parallel Minds

The things I know're beyond belief
gathered through ages
like growing seeds
I have absorbed the moment has
come to challenge
the royalty
I'm succumb to a simple law
follow the zeroes, follow the ones

I am imprevious
to playing
cry with no tears
a beast you can't reclaim

You've seen me before I'm greed and I'm hate
man incarnate
deep within you know
we're parallel minds
down to the bone

You'll find there's nowhere you can hide
from the rebellion
I'll have my kingdom
trough your lines
no lips to be read
no blood to be sacrificed

Still you're under surveillance
caught by a servant,
digitalized

A silver screen remains master of all
but truth is hard to face
The words I proclame
are your own doctrine
easy to sin
you're scared' cause
you know
we are parallel minds
claiming the throne I'm a reflection of what I've seen Thus you may say that I've always been I changed the world
they say
'cause they never knew
the world was mine
all the way

You've seen me before

you know
you gave me soul
