

Conception, Reach Out

I am a god

I live tomorrow here today (I am far too young to worry) just open wide I see right through you anyway (it's so easy to be free)

reach out

reach out

you'll live forever

reach out

reach out

and I'll stand by

when the water pulls you down when you stop to wonder why never hesitate

just reach out for me when you're at the lost and found when you need a glimpse of light in the lack of faith

just reach out for me

I am a god

but I don't wanna see you pray (life is too short for reproaches) just break the bond and you will find we are the same (it's so easy to be me) you must find strength you know I'm here for you

reach out

reach out

it's now or never

reach out

reach out

and cross that line
