

Conditions, Goodbye Good Name

Calm down, listen close, and I'll explain your potential
You've got a lot to learn
See, you and me, we're meant to be instrumental
We are guardians in this world
If chivalry lives with the last man standing
I'm gonna fight all day
So let go, let go
You destroy yourself when you're someone else
And I know, like you know
You're intended for so much more than this
If you don't allow my voice to be the one you confide in I'm simply letting you know
I'll be sure to be the one you collide with So you grow how you need to grow
So little of you know your purpose of protection While so many of you drag your good name miles in the wrong direction
