

Confide, Zeal

So lets piece things together from now on, one by one.

I hoping you know the way, because I'm so alone.

Taking what you have for granted is a mistake you always made.

I'm hoping you know the way, I'm so alone...

Just know, I'm relieved, things are clear, my feet are where they should be.

Can you do this without me?

You're there everytime.

You're there for everything.

Just know, I'm relieved, things are clear, my feet are where they should be.

Can you do this without me?

My God, I can see clearly why I'm calling you.

My God, I can see clearly why I need you.
