

Connells, Try

So wouldn't you like to try?
You're so alive and unusual.
I really don't think you'd mind.
It's not too dear,
it's not too difficult.

Think of this for awhile.
You might decide
it's not for you at all.
But if you should feel confined,
Then take the step and you could leave it all.

"Seek and you will find"--
But I swear
it's not what you'll find.
