BABY'S BACK AGAIN

Writer Betty Jean Robinson

This must be my lucky day baby's back again
Said he'd never go away baby's back again
Throw my troubles to the wind happiness come right on in Cause baby's back again
Eyes there'll never be another teardrop
Lips he's waiting just a kiss away
The future looks so bright everything's alright
Since my baby's home again to stay
This must be my lucky day...
I never saw the moon shine more brightly
All the stars came out tonight for me
He said he still loves me that's all I need to know
Cause that's the way a real love has to be
This must be my lucky day...
Cause baby's back again oh yes my baby's back again
Oh yes my baby's back again
