

Connie Smith, It's Gonna Rain Today

(You're going away it's gonna rain today)

There's coldness in the wind the clouds have changed again

From blue to gray it's gonna rain today

It won't be long from now with tears my head will bow

You're going away it's gonna rain today

There's no way for me to stop this storm that's comin' on

Cause the rain will pour as soon as you are gone

My dream of happiness will soon be loneliness inside to stay it's gonna rain today

There's no way for me...
