

Connie Smith, There'll Never Be Another For Me

THERE'LL NEVER BE ANOTHER FOR ME
Writers England Dan Seals, John Ford Coley

There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
I just can't live with the changes
Walkin' round here, living like strangers
Life is supposed to be living
We're not giving and it's slipping away
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
We got to stop all the raving
Take a minute and make it worth saving
Love is supposed to grow closer
But it's moving us over, it'll leave us one day
I been doing my best just to keep hanging on
But it won't work at all if I'm working alone
You keep talkin' about leaving
Say you're going still not believing
That we could pull it together
I could never let you go
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
There'll never be another for me, never be, never be
