

Connie Smith, Well Of His Mercy

Most of my life had been filled with despair everything seemed to slip ny me
Bitter my heart and to desert my soul then I drank at the well of his mercy
The water of life gave me strenght to go on
He opened my eyes turned the darkness to gold
Now there is sunshine and love in my heart something inside me is singing
The thirst in my soul now is quenched everyday
As I drink at the well of his mercy
