

Conor Maynard, Waste Your Time

working full-time at a job you hate tryna pay your bills but you're always late had a couple dreams back when you was a teen but responsibilities meant it had to wait you got a bunch of friends but you feel alone they tryna and get you out but you stay at home they wanna hit the club but you wanna fall in love whit somebody you can trust cause there's been too many times that your heart has been let down and you're picking up pieces form the ground and you feel like screaming out but there's no one to help you too many times you been told that they can change but they don't , yeah they always stay the same and leave you in the pouring rain

I am right here to tell you I won't

I'll love you in all of the ways that tey don't and help you pick up all the pieces they broke I promise I'll always be whit you cause you don't wanna waste your time I swear you'll never waste your time whit me when's the last time you been outta state? when's the last time that got away? you're better than that, you ben breaking your back you deserve to relax cause there's been

and you're picking up pieces form the ground

too many times you been told that they can change
but they don't , yeah they always stay the same
and leave you in the pouring rain

and help you pick up all the pieces they broke
you don't wanna waste your time
I swear you'll never waste your time whit me
