

Consumed, Odd Man Out

Im thinking that I dont believe you
Now youve said what you want to say
I want to put it all behind me
And start again on a brand new day
Its a grey day again
It fucks me off
And when it hurts my head, I stay in bed

But it only happens when youre gone
I make decisions that go wrong, and go on
But today I dont feel so happy
Take a rest, save the best for another day

If I said I could relieve you
Would you thank me and let it go?
If youd only stop complaining
And look forward to a better day
Its a grey day again
It never shines
It only fucking rains on you again

Is this the way its supposed to be?
I dont like the way that you spoke to me
Ill make it up some other way
Another day, another shit day
