

Continental Drifters, Desperate Love

Written by Susan Cowsill

Main Voice: SUSAN

Produced by Continental Drifters

Released on 'Continental Drifters' (1995)

Nobody wants to do it alone
And everyone wants a happy home
But there's somethin' that no one needs
It strangles like a glove
Nobody wants a desperate love.

Someone to hold your hand
And tell your troubles to Someone to hold you when you shake
When you're lovin' a heart in two
It cuts off all the blood
Nobody wants a desperate love.

No one showed me how to feel
A love that's good and true and real
And no one told me how to be
And just feel good enough to live.

No one showed me how to feel
And no one told me how to be
And just feel good enough to live.

Now all's I'm askin' for
Is just a little time
To teach my heart a better way
To show you just how much
And what do you mean to me
Maybe then you'll want me to stay.

But when you're lovin' a heart in two
It cuts off all the blood
And there's somethin' that nobody needs
Cause it strangles like a glove
And when you're standing there looking at me
You can bet your stars above
I don't wanna be...I ain't gonna be
I refuse to be your desperate love.