

Contravene, The Gift Of Life?

The Gift of Life?

Currently over 6 billion people inhabit the planet earth and with every hour, more than 10,000 people will be born

A gift that should be so precious is instead a perverted game of deception & control
Manipulative parents hellbent on success they could not achieve

Greedy corporations to bring them to their knees

A system based on murder to teach them how to kill

A false prophet to suppress their thoughts to teach them to deny free will

Text books filled with lies to distort their perceptions of reality

Television to rot their brains and fill them with banality

Consumer society to teach that money is success

Date rape fucking culture to teach them the roles of sex

Daddy beats on mommy, thats the way it is when he gets tired of that, he beats his fucking kids

The gift of life, a precious act indeed, when a child is but a barcoded number in a system based on

They need bodies to fill the prison cells

They need bodies to fill the factories

They need bodies to fight in their fucking wars

They need bodies to satisfy their greed

In their eyes a child represents a profit, not a life

A potential customer, a consumer to be used and thrown aside

We live in a world where people would rather close their eyes than ever admit that we're anything b

A cycle of oppression based on rules that they define

Hatred, greed, destruction: will we ever see it die?

Is it really our nature to accept being blindly led?

And if that is our future, then the human race is dead.

There is no basis of life in our current state of living.
