

Conway Twitty, Love's Not Where Love Should Be

(Tracey Lee)

In the past few months all lies have changed
We no longer speak each other's name
We turned around and love was gone
We don't even know what went wrong.

We've been blinded by time
You lived your life and I lived mine
Much too late now we see
Love's not where love should be.

--- Instrumental ---

We worked so hard to build a home
I guess we thought that love grew on and on
If we had worked this hard on you and me
Love would be where love supposed to be.

We've been blinded by time
You lived your life and I lived mine
Much too late now we see
Love's not where love should be.

Love's not where love should be...
