

Conway Twitty, When I Turn Off My Lights

Let's forget unpleasant memories let them lie there in the past
Make believe here in my arms is where you belong
Yes I need you to love me each night when I'm alone
When I turn off my light your mem'ry turns on

I return the love she gives me till you mem'ry gets so strong
I exist in a house where I don't feel at home
How can love feel so right and still feel so wrong
When I turn off my light your mem'ry turns on

When I turn off my light your mem'ry turns on
Then I turn and reach for you and again find you're gone
But you'll stay with her she loves you and she's never done you wrong
When I turn off my light your mem'ry turns on Still when I turn off my light your mem'ry turns on
