

Conway Twitty, Who'll Turn Out The Lights In Your World Tonight

I wonder who'll turn out the lights in your world tonight
Whose shoulder will your head be restin' on
Does your hungry arms reach for someone you feel you need
Will the need still be there when he's gone
As I reach for the switch that turns out my lights
I wonder who'll turn out the lights in your world tonight
Has someone found a secret that I couldn't find
Is he touching that old switch that I've touched so many times
Is he turning on the woman I could never satisfy
I wonder who'll turn out the lights in your world tonight
[steel]
Has someone found a secret...
