

Cool Hand Luke, Destroying Transduction

i guess it's true - what i've always heard we make ourselves feel better with hurtful words and more times than i even care to know we hurt the ones we love the most forgiveness is what i'm looking for but you don't owe me anything at all it feels like i'm stabbing my own back i can't believe i'm drowning in the words i should not own and so this day I make a vow to never open my mouth against another living soul be it friend or foe

but is this real
or empty conviction?
or should I care
because I'm a Christian?

just to make sure
i'll cut out my tongue
destroy the transducers
and make myself numb
