

Cornelia Jakobs, Rise

Hit me without a warning
I fell out in the blink of an eye
All the bridges were burning
Didn't know how to get back over to the bright side
Yeah I lost, I got lost in the mighty darkness
And it feels like ages
But now I can see a sun about to rise

Waking up a spark inside
Suddenly it seems so easy
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
Became a lover to the night
But darling, oh you gotta release me

Didn't stop at the red light
Never learned how to slow down the speed
In a battle against the time
I've been giving my best to everybody but me
Yeah, I ran like a freak like I'd fucking lost it
Until I really lost it
But now I can see a sun about to rise

Waking up a spark inside
Suddenly it seems so easy
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
Became a lover to the night
But darling, oh you gotta release
You gotta release me

Always been standing steady on my feet
It really scared me I could fall so deep
Didn't notice that I was going down
Till I woke up with my face back to the ground
I've forgotten what it's like to see
Just how beautiful the world can be
Oh, it's finally time to set me free
'Cause I can see a sun about to rise

Waking up a spark inside
Suddenly it seems so easy
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
Became a lover to the night
But darling, oh you gotta release
You gotta release, you gotta release me

I'm slowly getting closer to the light
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
I'm slowly getting closer, oh you gotta release me

I'm slowly getting closer to the light
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
I'm slowly getting closer, oh you gotta release me
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
I'm slowly getting closer to the light
