Corrosion Of Conformity, Holier

Holier, much holier than you were before No more

Now your purpose, Jesus, flowing in your soul No more

Feel complete what a nice retreat to the call No more

The wrath of God will serve you well as bodies fall In hate

Finding the answers, distoring the question
Ending all possibilities for things to change
Rotting in your empty shell
Writhing in relentless hell
It's death you chose, you chose it well
In your mind you've found it
In my mind, where's your God? He's in your head
In their minds, they've found it

In my mind, where's your God? He's in your head
