

Counting Crows, The Richest Man

If I had a dollar for every time
you broke my heart, messed up my mind

well I'd be the richest man I'd be the richest man
...in the world

If bad times paid interest I'd have you to thank I'd be driving a new car, have money in the bank

I'd be the richest man
I'd be the richest man

baby..money can't buy love the kind I dream of is so hard to find for a good womans touch in the morning when I rise well baby I'd give up every single dime money cant buy love

the kind I dream of is so hard to find for a good woman's touch in the mrrning when I rise baby I'd give up every single dime

If teardrops were diamonds from the African mines if heartaches were silver my whole life would shine and I'd be the richest man
...in the world
