

Course Of Nature, Dead End Lights shame on you i thought you would behave bite your tongue 'cause your lips have gone astray even still, i've managed well i've tried too hard for you whatever you had intended i would be is further from this fake reality that is not how you feel

dead end lights on this oneway road for me i can see the hill
offer you a life of tepidly i just need a friend
i just need a friend, yeaaaahh...i pray
