Courtney Jaye, Traveling Light

Three years or a lifetime Three words that just might have come too soon Three hours from somewhere I might have ended up with you Hold me like a river Hold me like a string tied to a balloon You get what you're given At any moment a moment of truth All my life I'm traveling light Been living in a sky I'll float I'll fade I'll carry away Til you pull me down and think of me sometimes I'm sorry for leaving I'm sorry for all I could not do You knew it was coming Maybe in some ways I did too The keys by the bedside And bags in the hall [Chorus] I'm searching for something in the ether of this mess Riding above these missing pieces, leaves me weightless [Chorus]
