

Courtney Love, For once in your life

You just dont love me
And I just dont care
Oh I never said I would play fair
Something so perfect
Something so rare
There is no cure
Theres not a prayer, a prayer
So what can I do
I am the only perfect choice
Youve met your match
Ive lost my voice
And when youre gone it gets so cold
I swear Im too young to be this old
So what do I do
Oh I've been better
You want whats pure and you want whats right
But Im forever,
Just do the right thing for once in your life, in your life
Ive got a right to be this wrong
It started when the lying did
Tummy aches and the best of me is gone
And all that I am is out and lay bare, and lay bare
So what do I do?
So what do I do?
Oh I've been better
You want whats pure and you want whats right
But Im for ever just do the right thing for once in your life, in your life
Its all I am
Oh I've been cheated covered in diamonds covered in filth
But I've still breathing
But please stick around and ill build you a world
Oh I've strangled past beyond sex or cut down to size
My life just dangled
Oh there's no context for once in my life in my life
So what do I do
So what do I do
I know that Im just a lost girl
But please stick around and ill build you a world
I'll build you a world
I'll build you a world
I'll build you a world
