

Cousteau, Jump In The River

rain, rain on me I thirst only one desire strange danger we go dancing into the fray where the water runs deep more than the flesh or the pleasure can keep oh please won't you

jump in the river with me

sweet the grape deep ripened soft betrayal stealing days

this tormented mad embrace and so long may she reign (long may she rain)

long may the stains run forever and then, again
oh won't you
jump in the river with me....
