

Craig Morgan, Always Be Mine

oh the first time that we ever danced together you kissed me and i froze right where i stood it felt just like that night could go on forever thats the very moment my heart thought you would always be always be mine

always be always be mine

remember when we drove alnight down to daytona i dont even think we ever saw the beach we spent half a weeks vacation in a hotel room and that might not be your favorite memory but it'll always be always be mine

always be always be mine

oh i know you said we dont belong together but if by chance you ever change your mind and you need two arms to die and to hold you it'll always be always be mine i still keep your picture hangin in the hallway and all your letters in the bottom of the drawer i still believe for everyone theres only one true love and i realize that i'll never be yours but you'll always be always be mine

always be always be mine
yes you'll always be always be mine
always be always be mine

music til fade
