

Crashd?et, Tomorrow

I don't wanna change my ways, to fit in to your pattern
Becoming a man I don't wanna be...
So I could see it coming the nite you made the turn
You tore a part my illusion...
The reckless shattering, you made my heart burn
Your strength made it to conclusion...
There is no tomorrow
In the world that I live
Everything that you said to me, I bought it...
Everything that you told me, you made me feel complete
Everything that you said to me, I got it
Everything that you told me, you made me feel complete...
"I don't wanna hear about it anymore"
"I don't wanna hear about it, no you can take you cheaptalk away..."
There's always hard times but I can make it through
Another fiction comes to mind now...
A new sun is shining I wonder will it do
And give me all the things I want to have...
Maybe there's a tomorrow
In the world that I live
You feed upon my affection and the space of my heart
Now I'm never on the burning, somehow I made it through the learning
Let there be another day
There is a tomorrow
In the world that I live
