

Criteria, Connections

I remember when we first met
Through a friend of a friend of a friend
We were fortunate to have met

And a month or so later I guessed
Affection it settled in
This is where it begins
Not where it ends

But I know that I've made some mistakes
We can review my mistakes
And come to know a better way
But in the end I'm the same
Just look at the dna

Is it possible to be so confused at this point?
And it's rational, [meant] it's logical
There is no point in denying it to yourself

Control
I'm in control
Decisions aren't made for me
They're made on my own

But i know that i've made some mistakes
We can review my mistakes
And come to know a better way
But in the end i'm the same
Just look at the dna

Is it possible to be so confused at this point?
And it's rational, [meant] it's logical
There is no point in denying give yourself a chance
You might like it

We must make
Connections
We must make
Connections
We must make
Connections
We must make
Connections
