

Criteria, Rescue Rescue

a memory lapse
a heart that collapsed
a fragmented time
that's turned into math i can't stand the sight i turn my eyes

a pressure here

when i say "i don't know" it means "i don't want you to know" my plans will change i will pack then be ready to go and drive away from this tar-heeled state and go back to omaha a place i know i will be safe

(your eyes are blind)
what i'm listening to it's not logical that's why i'm leaving you because that's possible now i can't pretend to be someone i am not the bed that you made for me used to put me right to sleep but now i lie awake slowly devising this speech your plans have failed you are shaking, you're chilled and you're weak

(your eyes are blind)
