

Criteria, Self Help

The sightless leading the blind
You confuse and scare the masses to get behind
Because the worlds stern
But you chose to fight instead and not to learn

Who you kill dont change:
You killed

How hard is it to say, I make mistakes?
We cannot pretend to dance around the cover-up.
If this aint no sin to say you never heard
Well then one lies into another

Who protects citizens from presidents?

Nations will try to remind us
Dont begin what you cant end
Somebody out there can fight us
But instead we close our eyes and go to War, it dont work
It frustrates the cause, its making it worse.

Peace, love, understanding
Its as simple as it sounds if you believe

Leaders will try to blind us
But open minds still see
Officials addicted to crisis
Detoxified with peace

They make war, it dont work
It frustrates the cause, its making it worse
