

Cromok, The Little One

(sam)

it's fate that bring us here we're not the one to blame there lies a little fear there lay a litter shame you're not alone
but everybody's gone no one there to see your tears this pain in your mind can't leave behind what's more could happen to me a few second to leave we're not allow to breath you raelly made us see how true cruelty is i'm trapped outside no shelter no pride i've done nothing can you see you're not afraid to lie i'm not afraid to die yes it's a deal in the darkness of the day somewhere anywhere i stood still you'll hear the rest will say someone has to pay the bill forgive me now i'll change somehow there's nothing no one can say you'll suffer till the end there's time to ammnd on your knees you'll pray
