

Crosse Clay, I Turn To You

Mike Reid and Allen Shamblin

A silent house, moonlit walls

Shadows move like ghosts down empty halls

The daily news lies on the floor

A crazy world waits outside my door

As life goes on

Chorus:

I turn to you Lord

In my hour of desperation

When the waters of my life are running dry

I turn to you Lord

And I find the inspiration

To believe my dreams are worth and honest try

In a world that breaks your heart in two

I turn to You

In crowded streets, lonely eyes

Search for love beneath darkening skies

I fight and fall for foolish gain

When will I learn I earn it all in vain

Without Your love

Repeat chorus

And You're always there

To gently guide me home

In a world that breaks your heart in two

I turn to You
