

Crosse Clay, Somethin's Missin'

Clay Crosse, Mark Heimermann and Jerry McPherson

You've got it made

So they say you do

Don't need a thing

And they envy you

Live like a king

In a castle

Got the money, got the power,

Got the world on a string

But there's an empty look in your eyes

And it's comin' from a heart that cries

Chorus:

'Cause somethin's missin' inside

Lookin' for a peace of mind

That you never will find

In the things of this world

Doesn't matter what you've got

If you don't know the love of God

There's somethin' missin' in your life

Look who walked in

You're a beauty queen

Right off the page

Of a magazine

Every man's dream

To be with you

Got 'em callin', got 'em fallin'

Got their hearts on a string

But you wonder why you feel alone

And why the misery within you grows

Repeat chorus

I have the answer

To put an end to all your pain

His name is Jesus

He will fill your world

With a love that'll never fade

Repeat chorus

(C) 1997 Magnolia Hill Music (a div. of McSpadden-Smith LLC)/Anything

For The Kids, Fun Attic Music, Mo Miles Music (ASCAP)

Drums: Dan Needham

Guitars: Jerry McPherson, George Cocchini

Bass: Jackie Street

Keyboards: Mark Heimermann

Percussion: Terry MacMillan

B-3: Phil Madeira

BGVs: Judson Spence, Mark Heimermann