Crowded House, You're Not The Girl You Think Y

You're not the girl you think you are they're not his shoes under your bed they take you places in his car but you won't forget And all the people that you know will turn their heads as you go by but you'll be hard to recognize with the top down and the wind blowing, blowing He won't deceive you or tell you the truth woman, he'll be no trouble he won't write you letters full of excuses come on, believe you have one in a million You're not the girl you think you are someone's standing in your place the bathroom mirror makes you look tall but it's all in your head, in your head He won't deceive you or tell you the truth woman, he'll be no trouble he won't write you letters full of excuses come on, believe you have one in a million He won't deceive you or tell you the truth come on, believe you have won you're not the girl you think you are believe you have won you're not the girl you think you are believe you have won you're not the girl you think you are