

Crown Of Thorns, Neverending Dream

My destiny have been chosen by an Absurd religion
They call themselves a sect of light
With their own reality they think they are above humanity
With fear they turn their back on us

With re-creation
they try to fill our heads with lies Claiming that the son of god will rise
With their dream of glory skies
I say their dream will forever die

No Guf is empty
No more souls
The first-born child will die alone
The seven signs you will see only if you truly believe First the Sea will show you Death and then the Blood-red moon will show that your journey is coming soon

With re-creation
Claiming that the son of god will rise
With their dream of glory skies
I say their dream will forever die

It's just a lie!

Let them know that their glory sky will forever die

Their dream will forever die!
