

Crowned King, A Million Pictures

Many songs, many lines
Many moments, many times
You cast a million pictures in my mind
You might say that it's not so
I can prove it, well here I go
It's not easy feeling so alone

I wish I could be
The way you picture me
And sometimes it's hard
But if only you could see that

It makes no difference
What is wrong and what is right
Makes no difference
Because I'm here with you tonight.

I can feel your heart beat
It's the reason that I can't sleep
And I pray that this night's not the last
Everything's okay, things seem alright
So I lie awake and hold you tight
Candles fade and dusk breaks all too fast

I wish that I could be
The way you picture me
And sometimes it's hard
But only if you could see that

It makes no difference
What is wrong and what is right
Makes no difference
Because I'm here with you tonight.

I wish that I could have
A picture of my own
A scene of happiness
Long after you're gone

It makes no difference
What is wrong and what is right
Makes no difference
Beause I'm here with you tonight.

It makes no difference
What is wrong and what is right
Makes no difference
Because I'm here with you tonight.
