

Crowned King, Playing God

Fire me up
I'm gonna set this world ablaze
This head is far too hot to be contained
With my power
I'll command my armies to parade
Then send them off so you won't be afraid
Cause you can't save yourself
So clear the city streets
Go lock and bar your doors
And turn on your t.v.'s
And you can save yourself
By trusting what I choose
And I'll just keep on playing god
I'm getting back at them for you
Feel my strength
As tragedies collide like trains
These iron fists will grip and ease the pain
So roll over
I'm gonna be so inhumane but aren't things so much safer since I came
