

Crushead, Easy

im looking out of the window what a beautiful day the sun is gone and the wind blows the colored leaves away this is my favourite season this is a wonderful day and I'm starting to chill out times relative today i lay my legs on the table, lay my head back down i do not think about anything that may come now this is one of these days which I just enjoy and I do not think about what people may say today is mine please do not disturb is written on the sign that I hang place on my door this day belongs only to me my baby twenty-four hours of joy and happiness

i drink too much coffee i eat too much cake and I watch so many movies and when I sleep I'm just half awake and when the telephone rings i just plug it off i get lost in a daydream and don't ever wanna wake up sometimes you need a day like this on which you just have to breathe nothing to do or to think about you just have to be
