

Crushead, Something Glorious

sometimes it's so hard to be honest so hard to get up i must confess that i'm too lazy to figure out my priorities sometimes it's hard to turn the pages to take the next step to just open up the dusty book on the shelf there's something glorious glorious inside why can't i just open up open up my mind and put a little glory inside sometimes the tv program's stronger than anything else

to switch off this machine sometimes its nice to read some comics to roar with laughter it seems to be more fun than this dusty book on the shelf we got so much time to gamble or to just stare at a wall just 5 minutes are too much to talk to our merciful creator
