

Crustation, Close My Eyes

My grief is anchored in the rain
I feel the pleasure and the pain
But happiness is mine
And I feel fine

Pastel shades
Shades of gray
I'll fade away it doesn't always
Have to rain

Easily bored
You can't hold my attention long
My concentration's already gone
Wish you were too

Light a candle
Watch the yellow flame burn
Illuminated by the flicker
Intoxicated by the scent of you

So I close my eyes

Misty dawn
I see you through the foggy dew
You've got to seize the day you say
I wish you away

And so I close my eyes
World in disguise
Absence of light darkness is right
Leave me alone

And so I close my eyes
World in disguise
Absence of light darkness is right
Leave me alone

So I close my eyes
