

Cry Of The Afflicted, A True Legacy

Open your eyes and you'll see
That we're fading away impressions
We've left disappear decay
Each passing moment is crucial,
Well linger no more rewrite our story
And redirect our course
Break us shake off weakness
Break us, shake off stillness
As we deny ourselves from us
Within your passion from us
With your purpose as you prepare our hearts
For more the record's already written,
Intents are defined this is perfection
In permanent design what propels us to greatness.
To honor beyond a legacy that is timeless.
Worth standing on provide us
With a new voice of influence a voice
That carries weight and demands respect
