

Cryhavoc, Bloodtie

Our love, was bounded by oath, everlasting oath sworn with blood, but I was left alone with these scars and in my dreams you still got that same grimace

My destiny is written in stars oh so high
I know that the time will heal these wounds and I'll be ready to go... by thy side

Now you try to fool me again now you try to get me back again but the oath is gone I have crossed the line
'cause my blood is black and yours as red as wine

and now when the time has healed these wounds
and I'm ready to go...
I'm ready to go.

My destiny is written in stars
has healed these wounds
and I'm ready to go.
