Cryhavoc, Misanthropy

They try to see through my empty shell they try to see through my living hell They try to realize what I'm inside that thing they never gonna find

So go leave me here I want you to disappear like raven into black winter night

Go leave me here Go and disappear Go leave alone in the night

Now you try to tell me what to do Hey! I do what ever I want to do So you try to tell me that's not right you try to pull me into light

So go leave me here I want you to disappear like raven into black winter night

Sorrow is my guide my heart is open wide to your lies all your goddamn lies

So what are you still staring at... Go leave me here Go and disappear Go leave alone in the night

Sorrow is my guide my heart is open wide to your lies all your goddamn lies
