

Cryptal Darkness, My Eternal Hunger

(Music: Mark Kelson and Chris Burton)

(Lyrics: Mark Kelson)

My hunger for you grows inside me like an eternal fire burning inside my soul
I long to taste your flesh
I hunger for your warm blood

Into my darkness you bring light can I feel love once more or am I damned into emptiness where your touch I shall never feel

I am your servant
I would die for you one thousand times
for you no pain is stronger than the pain that tears at my heart. . .

You are all things pure, all things of god
I need you for you are my destiny, everything I desire I bare not feel your warm blood on my cold flesh you shall not feel my torment ever. . .

I am your servant
I would die for you one thousand times
for you no pain is stronger than the pain that tears at my hear. . .

Words cant describe my emotions
I no longer experience fear why did it come to this blind in our pain the events of my life are before me birth lay the path towards death the subsistence of my flesh condemned to rot our souls become one our pain washed away in a storm of renewed hope I feel you inside my mind together at last for eternity. . .
