==Translation==

&lt;/lyrics&gt;

It's past midnight & I'm at the window, staring vacantly at the waning crescent moon
The curtain shakes & I'm able to hear a radio that someone's listening to from somewhere

When it I'm discouraged, I just think of you
I want to become a cloud & go to meet your strong face

It always feels like you're by my side
Somehow we're so close that we're apart
If I think of you on a night when the moon doesn't come out,
I will be shined on

The pink cosmos at the hill that I went to overflows & I can't move How long has it been since I've been standing without realizing that the sunset is visible from here?

I wonder what kind of scenery the future of today will be My selfish eyes want to be free like the wind

I'm sure I can find somewhere-- the irreplaceable things & being in love
Even if it's a place with no path,

when I search for the dream, I won't be lost

I want to smile like a flower & sing like a bird someday

It always feels like you're by my side

Why are we so close that it feels like we're apart?

If I think of you on a night when the moon doesn't come out,

I will be shined on

When I search for the dream, I won't be lost
