

Crystal Lewis, Ghost Of Your Love

copyright Steven, Dave Lee, & Jonny Ray Bartel

Lord how I've missed you, how I curse the day
I was so unfaithful, then I went my way
No need to ask the question, "Am I blue?"
My heart is haunted with the memory of you

I'm all alone with the Ghost of your love
I see you everywhere the Ghost of your love
Always at my shoulder, nothing could be colder
Than turning my back on the Ghost of your love

I don't blame you Lord, I know I should have prayed
Didn't mean to shame you, just happened that way
Give me one more chance and help me not back down
From that old rugged cross where perfect love is found

Now you've found me, how I praise this day
You've been so faithful, to never walk away
I know what it means to say my love is true
I've learned my lesson from watching how you do

I'm not alone with the Ghost of your love
He leads me everywhere, the Ghost of your love
Always at my shoulder, nothing could be bolder
Than giving my life to the Ghost of your lov