

Crystal Lewis, Seasons Change

Are you going through a dry spell?
yes, I've been there before
Where the trees are slowly withering
Where their roots cry out for more where the desert floor is dry and cracked
No clouds hang in the sky
No winter rain or spring it seems
No change in sight

(Chorus)
But seasons change and then they pass no way to know how long they'll last
I'd love to know the reasons why
But God knows
Seasons change and then they pass
no way to know how long they'll last
I'd love to know the reasons why
But God knows
Seasons change

Are you going through a dry spell?
I've been there a time before Where life seems to stay the same for a while You want to change but don't know how to It's the place where you feel empty inside
Can't put your finger on the need
I look at God and see what I want to be
I look at me and see what I am

(Chorus)

Are you going through a dry spell?
I was there a while ago
Now I've come to a place where the rain falls where the trees bear fruit and grow where I find a refuge in my God
It's a place of surrender I know
I look at God and see what I want to be
He looks at me and sees His own

(Chorus)
